Lisnaskea native, Fr Brendan McManus SJ, has a new book out about himself and a Dublin taxi driver on retreat on the Camino last summer. The book is called Brothers in Arms - Jimmy, the taxi driver, has it proudly displayed in his taxi. It tells the story of a testing pilgrimage: trying to find a way through the severe heat-wave of last summer; the challenges of walking together, finding accommodation and negotiating unexpected hurdles; the retreat looked at faith, prayer and blocks to progress. It is a story about Jimmy and his struggles, for all that he has faced and overcome in his life. All proceeds go to the Peter McVerry Trust (homelessness). <https://www.veritasbooksonline.com/brothers-in-arms-9781788126144-49696/>

This week's bulletin has been sponsored in thanksgiving.
